

Stephen Wise Free Synagogue
Social Action in Action

Wednesday, April 25, 7 pm

TOWN MEETING

on the URBAN SIDE OF GLOBAL WARMING

Can New York survive congestion and climate change?

Will New York be a livable city in 2030?

What can you do to make a difference?

New York City is CENTERSTAGE to the World

You can play a part in our city's future health.

Join environmental experts including the head of Mayor Bloomberg's Brain Trust on Sustainability, the Manhattan Borough President, business leaders, and your neighbors.

Rohit Aggarwala

Head of the Mayor's brain trust on sustainability

"Plan for a Sustainable NY: Challenges, Goals, Strategies"

Council Member Gale Brewer
"Political Realities in the City Council and Current Transportation Initiatives"

Stephen Hammer, PhD

Expert on Urban Energy & Environmental Policy

"Beyond NYC: How Other Cities are Meeting the Challenges of Sustainability"

Program prepared with the assistance of the School of International Affairs' Center for Energy, Marine Transportation and Public Policy, Columbia University
Co-sponsored by Congregation Rodeph Sholom

Q & A following presentations

30 West 68th Street, NYC 10023

(212) 877-4050

www.swfs.org

info@swfs.org